

2016 Mono Lake Committee ANNUAL REPORT

FROM THE EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR AND CHAIR OF THE BOARD

Fall 2016

We now have had five years of drought at Mono Lake, and the lake is down over six feet. We were hopeful that a big winter last year would put the lake back on the rise, but El Niño didn't deliver even an average amount of snowfall. We can take solace, though, in the State Water Board rules that protect the lake in this situation by sharing the pain of the drought between the lake and Los Angeles, achieved thanks to the hard work of the Mono Lake Committee and supporters like you.

For perspective, without the Committee's work, Mono Lake would be about 30 vertical feet lower than it is today. That is the difference between today's recovering ecosystem, and lake past the point of ecological collapse. The protections that are in place are working. For example: because of the low lake level, water diversions to Los Angeles have been decreased from 16,000 to 4,500 acre-feet. That's a 70% decrease in water exports leaving the Mono Basin or, in our terms, more water to help Mono Lake weather the drought.

Mono Lake has another thing going for it too—you. The Mono Lake Committee membership is a dedicated group of people who care deeply about Mono Lake, and are determined to figure out the best things for the lake no matter what the circumstances. Together we figure out smart ways to protect this remarkable place and—as you'll see in the pages of this Annual Report—we make it happen.

You'll also find our audited financials from 2015 along with reports on the Committee's core programs, so you can get a sense of the whole organization. If you're still curious when you're done, we hope you'll get in touch, or better yet, stop by the Information Center & Bookstore in Lee Vining. There's nothing better than making connections between Mono lake enthusiasts. Well, that, and maybe a nice long string of above-average winters.

Long Live Mono Lake!

Geoffrey McQuilkin, Executive Director

Sally Gaines, Chair, Board of Directors

MISSION

The Mono Lake Committee is a non-profit citizens' group dedicated to protecting and restoring the Mono Basin ecosystem, educating the public about Mono Lake and the impacts on the environment of excessive water use, and promoting cooperative solutions that protect Mono Lake and meet real water needs without transferring environmental problems to other areas.

For 38 years, the Mono Lake Committee has been inspired by a love for this beautiful place, where a remarkable salt lake lies at the center of a landscape and ecosystem unmatched elsewhere on earth. Our vision since 1978, shared with 16,000 members, is of a healthy, protected, and wild Mono Basin and of an organization that seeks positive, principled, proactive solutions to problems.

The Committee's landmark success—saving Mono Lake from destruction due to the excessive diversion of water to Los Angeles—is internationally known. We revitalized California's Public Trust doctrine through a precedent-setting state Supreme Court decision, launched programs to meet Los Angeles' real water needs through water conservation and reclamation, and achieved an extraordinary revision of water rights in the Mono Basin that ensures Mono Lake will thrive and its tributary streams prosper.

Hundreds of thousands of citizens have united in support of Mono Lake, and we have learned that protecting this place requires us to do even more. Today the Committee tackles new political challenges, advances the restoration of the lake and its streams, shares this special place through unique education programs, & broadens Mono Lake knowledge through scientific research. As always, we provide constant vigilance to protect our hard-won victories.

PROTECTION

Protecting Mono Lake, its streams, and the surrounding land requires nimble advocacy, thoughtful planning, and continuing vigilance. Mono Lake needs ongoing citizen involvement to ensure that protections remain in place and strong.

Our 38-year history of engagement with Mono Lake water issues provides the critical expertise needed to ensure that promised protections are put into place. The landmark success of the 2013 Mono Basin Stream Restoration Agreement guarantees a healthy future for 19 miles of Mono Lake's tributary streams and certainty about the restoration of their fisheries, streamside forests, birds, and wildlife. We are on the cusp of turning the Agreement into a new water license issued to the Los Angeles Department of Water & Power (DWP) by the California State Water Board.

A key element of the license is DWP's commitment to invest an estimated $15 million to modernize antiquated aqueduct infrastructure at Grant Lake Reservoir Dam by building a new Grant Outlet structure. The new outlet will physically and symbolically show that the Los Angeles Aqueduct can achieve two purposes: deliver water to the people of LA and protect and restore Mono Lake and the Mono Basin streams providing that water.

The Mono Lake Committee works year-round to protect Mono Lake.

It's not unusual to see Committee staff in safety gear for visiting the Caltrans Rockfall Project.

The Committee collaborates with local agencies on projects that affect the Mono Basin.

PROTECTION

The Committee participates in the local 350.org climate action and awareness events.

The Mono Lake Committee monitors the lake level closely—tracking and recording the lake level each month.

RESTORATION

Restoration works to heal damage caused by fifty years of excessive water diversions to Los Angeles. The goal in the Mono Basin is to rejuvenate the dynamic ecological processes of Mono Lake and its tributary streams to reestablish natural conditions that will thrive into the future.

The Committee plays a critical role in transforming restoration actions required by the State Water Board into on-the-ground progress. When enacted, the 2013 Mono Basin Stream Restoration Agreement will better implement flow regimes that mimic natural runoff patterns & activate natural processes to restore the streams. In the meantime we continue an extensive monitoring program to track and inform the restoration process.

Mill Creek, Mono Lake's third-largest tributary, is not diverted into the Los Angeles Aqueduct, but suffers from antiquated infrastructure that limits full water flows. In 2015 volunteers worked 129 hours to remove more than 737 pounds of invasive white sweet clover from the creek's banks, which will allow native tree seedlings to grow successfully once Mill Creek gets its fair share of water returned.

The Committee tracks flows and groundwater levels on Mono Lake's tributary streams to monitor progress towards restoration of stream ecosystem health restoration.

Generations of volunteers help remove invasive plants to jump-start streamside forest restoration.

Monitoring flows is crucial to informing the stream restoration process.

RESTORATION

The goal of the stream restoration program is to rejuvenate the dynamic ecological processes and reestablish the natural conditions that will thrive in the future.

The Committee's restoration program includes monitoring on all five of Mono Lake's tributaries.

EDUCATION

To share the sense of wonder and understanding that Mono Lake evokes, the Committee's education program offers an array of popular experiential opportunities, and continues to provide education programs for tens of thousands of people.

Canoe tours & South Tufa walks introduced over 2,000 people to Mono Lake. Forty nine Field Seminar program days immersed people in topics from basketry to bighorn sheep. The 14th annual Mono Basin Bird Chautauqua had 296 participants. The environmental education program served 24 groups and 459 students, and the Mono Lake Volunteer Program placed 59 volunteers in the field for daily visitor interaction throughout the summer.

At the Information Center & Bookstore we helped more than 65,000 people enjoy their Mono Basin visits. Nearly half a million individuals accessed monolake.org, and the Mono Lake Newsletter reached 16,000 members and the visiting public.

Outdoor Education Center programs for Los Angeles youth connected 273 students and 60 leaders in 21 groups with the source of their water at Mono Lake for a total of 1,365 student education days in the form of week-long visits.

Students from Pacoima Beautiful in the San Fernando Valley tour South Tufa.

A group from East Yard Communities for Environmental Justice from Commerce helps with stream restoration.

Outdoor Education Center programs build appreciation for the Mono Basin/Los Angeles watershed.

Students from Communities for a Better Environment celebrating snow at the top of their watershed.

The Committee leads canoe tours introducing visitors to Mono Lake each weekend throughout the summer.

Students from South El Monte High School watch the sunset at the Mono Basin Outdoor Education Center.

SCIENTIFIC RESEARCH

Science provides a critical base for our policy positions, a guide for restoration and inspiration for understanding Mono Lake. Since 1976, scientific research has provided ecosystem and landscape knowledge that is the foundation of Mono Lake's protection.

The Committee works closely with researchers, hosts a research library and online clearinghouse of Mono Basin scientific information at monobasinresearch.org, and supports well-established projects like the California Gull research and Eared Grebe survey. The Committee runs the Mono Basin Field Station to provide research support facilities with the goals of enhancing the scientific knowledge of the Mono Basin, fostering collaboration and information exchange, and infusing our education programs with opportunities to engage scientists and participate in scientific work.

Since its opening, the Field Station has supported 113 researchers working on 71 projects. Topics of study have ranged from neotropical migratory birds, Greater Sage-grouse, swallows, and Willow Flycatchers to paleoclimatology, geomicrobiology, air quality monitoring, and climate science.

The Mono Lake Committee supports California Gull population research as one way to monitor the overall health of the ecosystem.

The Committee assists with research to have a better understanding of the Mono Lake ecosystem.

Paleoclimatology research helps the Committee understand historical climate conditions in the Mono Basin.

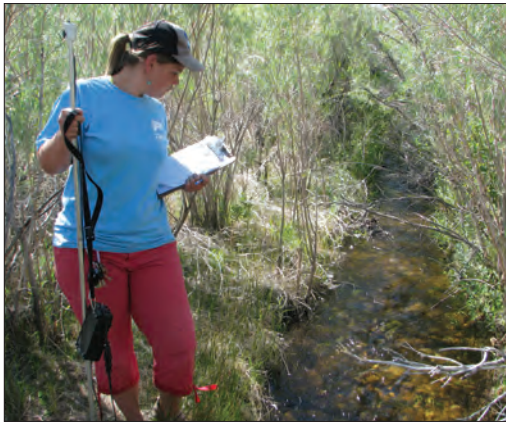

Knowing water temperatures in Grant Lake Reservoir is important for understanding downstream ecosystem health.

SCIENTIFIC RESEARCH

The Committee coordinates five Eared Grebe survey flights with the Canadian Wildlife Service, LightHawk, and volunteer photographers in order to better understand population size and migration timing.

Research provides the information necessary for good policy and management decisions.

Committee staff assist with trout fishery population monitoring on Rush Creek.

ECOLOGICAL FOOTPRINT

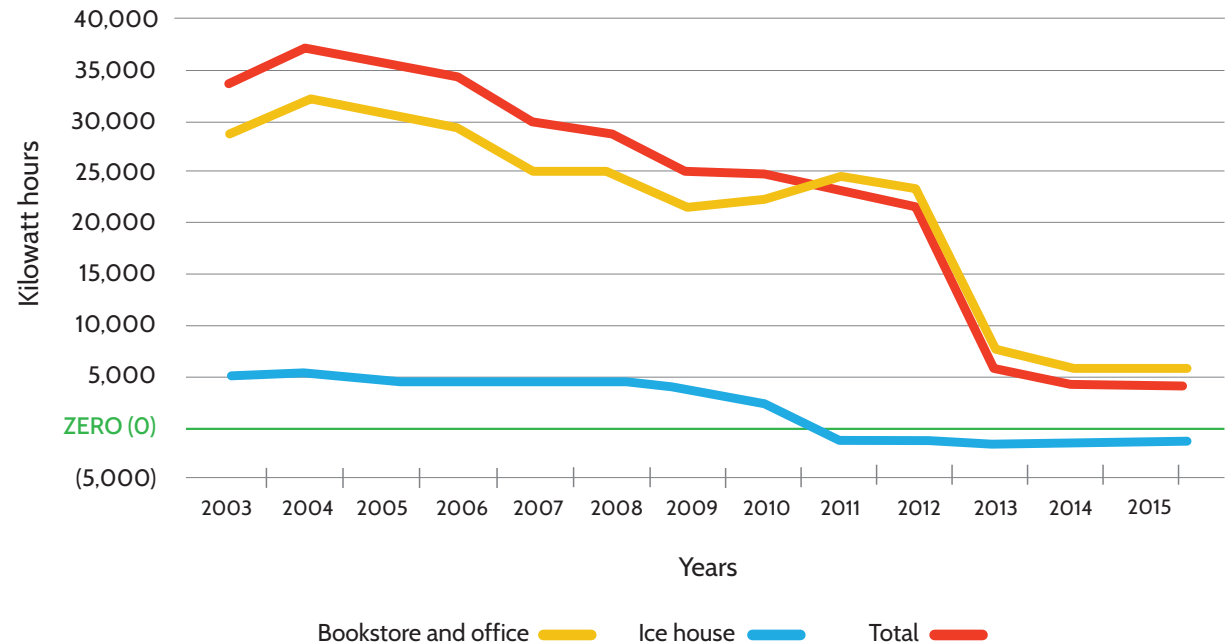

We evaluate our impact in the course of protecting Mono Lake.

Each year we track and assess our Bookstore & Information Center and office water and power consumption. We are careful to make sure that efforts to reduce our environmental impact are also reasonable expenditures of member donations.

The Committee's water comes from the local single-watershed system that serves the town of Lee Vining. In 2012 we installed the first water meter in town to monitor our use and to set a regional example. We also connected the public restroom sink with our landscaping via a greywater system. Thousands of visitors to the store now help water the storefront plants every time they use the sink, and we no longer use an irrigation system.

In 2012 we installed 33 solar panels on the main office building, which completed our transition to solar power that began in 2010 with eight panels on the ice house office building. Between getting solar panels and a concerted effort to upgrade light fixtures and appliances over time, the combined result is a 90% decrease in our electrical usage since 2006.

Mono Lake Volunteers

The Mono Lake Volunteer program is a joint initiative sponsored by the US Forest Service, California State Parks (the Mono Lake Tufa State Natural Reserve), and the Mono Lake Committee, with support from the Eastern Sierra Interpretive Association and the Bodie Foundation. Volunteers are a critical part of these agencies' work on behalf of Mono Lake.
